To Be a Continuous Session of the Senate.

An Extension of the Sherman Act is Likely.

Important Legislation Will Occupy the House.

Vote on the Tucker Bill Tuesday-The Banking and Currency Measure-A Substitute for the Chinese Exclusion Act.

Bu Telegraph to The Times

WASHINGTON, Oct. 8 .- (By the Asociated Press.) The momentous event in the Senate this week will be the attempt to secure a continuous session of that body. That the attempt will produce important results can hardly be doubted by any one familiar with the situation. It is the desire as well as the belief in the chamber that the present week will bring a solution of the problem, and the opinion expressed is that it will be a compromise of some

The proposition to simply extend the Sherman law for a definite period with reduced monthly purchases seems to be taking shape as the most likely of the various propositions to receive approval. The proposition to include the bond purchase is receiving attention, and the present indications are that while many Democrats may not agree to such proposition it may be put through with the assistance of the Republicans. The Senators from silver-producing States are constantly consulted and advised with as to the terms of agreement, but they will not be allowed to dictate in the matter of a ompromise.

It may be stated, however, that the silver party in the Senate, including both Democrats and Republicans, is not so anxious to secure a compromise as is supposed. The silver men appre-ciate that they are in a minority and cannot dictate the terms of capitula-tion, but feel that if they can make it clear that they will be able to go on with the debate indefinitely, they will be able to secure very liberal conces-sions. One point which they still seem determined to hold out against is the fixing of the limitation of time that siver purchases shall cease within Cleveland's administration, and the chances are that they will win in the

What the silver men would like best, next to free coinage, would be a continuation of the silver bill; that would be a triumph and not a compromise. Senator Manderson intimated yester-day that he considered this result possible, and, having canvassed the chamber very thoroughly to secure a com-promise, he is quite competent to pass upon this point. Such a result could be brought about by taking a recess until the regular meeting day in December, or by taking up some other bill. The general desire among Senators is to shore and made a detour of the yachts. get away. If, therefore, the night session experiment should not bring the passage of the bill, there is a possi-bility that a recess resolution would secure a majority in its support. The elections bill will probably reach the Senate early in the week, but there will likely be no immediate effort to take it up.

Important matters will occupy the ata vote. Although the Democrats are united in their demand for repeal of the laws permitting Federal supervision at the polls, some Northern Democrats believe that the Tucker bill, which blots out all laws on the statute books relating to Federal supervision, goes too far; indeed, even some Southern Democrats believe that some of the statutes which the Tucker bill seems to repeal should remain on the books. A Democratic caucus will be held tomorrow night, to give the Democrats an opportunity to discuss the proposed mod-ifications, and decide whether any amendments to the pending bill shall be adopted. The prevailing opinion among the Democrats who have can-vassed the situation is that the Tucker bill will be agreed upon as it stands. President Cleveland is reported to have said that he hoped every vestige of the law permitting Federal interference would be wiped out, and his expressions are expected to have effect in the cau-

After the disposal of the elections bill, the bill from the Banking and Currency Committee will again come up. On Thurday, if the banking bill is disposed of, the McCreary substitute for the Everett bill to amend the Geary exclusion act so as to extend the time for the registration of Chinese, will come up and be voted on. After two days the bill will be bitterly opposed ne of the Pacific Coast members especially Representative Geary, does not like its provisions, and who believes the bill only temporizes with the situation. To prevent fillbustering Chairman McCreary of the Foreign Affairs Committee asked for a special order giving two days for its considerorder giving two days for its consider-ation and providing for a vote at the end of that time. This will be granted by the Committee on Rules.

'In whatever shape the silver bill might pass the Senate, everything else

counter the most bitter and formidable France here

Indeed, the Democratic not hesitate to give it as the opinion that the proposition for a bond issue will never be passed in the lower branch of Congress. During the morning hour of the week minor matters may come up and be dis posed of, notably the old McGarrahar claim. Work on the tariff bill by the Democratic members of the Ways and Means Committee continues on the lines of making the raising of revenue the object of the bill and protection an incident. Several committees of the House will be busy during the week. The Committee on Merchant Marine and Fisheries expects the hearing upon the Fithian free shipping bill will be concluded on Monday or early in the week. The Committee on Territories will try and get a quorum together to consider several bills for the admission of Utah, Arizona, New Mexico and Okalahoma. The Utah bill will be disposed of first.

NEW YORK, Oct. 8.—(By the Associated Press.) The Vigilant and Valkyrie are resting within a few yards of each other in front of the Atlantic Yacht Clubhouse at Bay Ridge today. Things are being put in shipshape order for tomorrow's race in the most peaceful manner, but the army of patriots who are close by raised rumors that should go down into yachting race history. ring Parnell's Memory-Great Ovation to Prince Bismarck-The Situation at Rio de Janeiro-The English Miners.

By Telegraph to The Times. MADRID, Oct. 8 .- (By Cable and Associated Press) A large body of troops left the city today for Melilla, in Morocco. The gunboat Cuerva reached Malaga with dispatches, requesting no further reinforcemnts be sent to Melilla for the present. Moorish tribes continue to fire at intervals upon Fort San Miguel.

Yesterday evening the Moors fired into Melilla The Cuerva was fired upon off Tres Forcas. The gunboat promptly returned the fire, and a regular engagement followed, during which many tribesmen were killed and a number wounded.

The Cablis, near Melilla, continue to erect defenses. They are receiving reinforcements hourly, and are increasing in facility every moment. In spite of this, Gen. Margello is certain, that with the troops already at his disposal, and on the way to Melilla, he can defeat the Moors.

The Bey of Melilla district, it is further learned, visited Gen. Margello oday and declared the Sultan of Morocco would punish the offending tribes. The Bey, previous to his de-parture, stated that all chiefs of the tribes would assemble at Frajama today, in order to decide upon peace or war. The Minister of War, upon receiv-ing the communication from Gen. Margello, instructed that the commander reject the overtures of the Bey and fire upon any Moors invading Spanish terrishmen from All Corners of the Earth Gather at the Grave. DUBLIN, Oct. 8.—(By Cable and Associated Press.) Ireland and Irishmen from all over the world today assembled around the grave of Charles Stewart Parnell, in Glasnevin cemetery, and did honor and reverence to the memory of the great Irish leader. It was the second anniversary of his death, and the crowds attending the day's ceren nies showed that Ireland had not forgotten the services of Parnell. The procession of mourners through the streets of Dublin exceeded in number and in reverence that of last year upon the same occasion.

The procession was headed by a black draped wagon, upon which were piled memorial wreaths, sent from different parts of the country, as well as several from the United States, Canada and Australia. The officials and corporations of the cities of Dublin and Cork attended the ceremonies in state. The streets along the route to the cem etery were packed with people, and the neighborhood of Glasnevin was crowded. John Parnell, brother of the late statesman, and Mrs. Dickinson, his sister, appeared in a carriage at the cemetery. Wreaths were placed upon the grave of the beloved leader, and the procession then re-formed, and re-turned to the city.

The intention of the committee was to make a demonstration, as far as possible indicative of the strength of the Parnellite cause. With this object in view, fast excursion trains were run to Dublin from all parts of Ireland. Many thousands availed themselves of these trains, and the demonstration was much more successful than that of last year.

One great departure from the pro-gramme of last year was the absence of public speaking in connection with the commemoration. The procession was headed by a contingent of the principal Parnellites. All trades, friendly societies, and many other bodies in the cities also walked if the procession. The instruments of the different bands were draped in black, and the music was dirgeful and funereal in character. in character. IN THIS COUNTRY.

Letters found in the man's pockets led to the identification, and the contents, if true, tell a sensational story. In all he letters which he had written Kershaw speaks of a crime charged against him, which is prosecuted by a woman, whom he designates as Libble Bloom, and a number of secret societies, and he claims he is hounded to the grave. He speaks of an unfair trial, and evidently believed his enemies intended to murder him. He hinted at lynching, but stated he did not fear it, not fearing death.

Letters were also found on him signed Libbie Bloom, and they, taken in connection with those written by himself, indicate that he was infatu-ated with the Bloom woman, and left his wife and children in order to live with her. Some of the letters read like the products of a deranged mind.

Marshal Gard's Accounts are Not at Fault.

A Little Item from Last November Makes Trouble.

Total Cost of Deportation-The Treasury Department's Estimate Too Large-Collector Wise's $5000 Special Fund.

The controversy which has been going on between the Attorney-General at Washington on the one side, and various officials connected with the Federal court in this city on the other has been given additional prominence by the spicy letter of Judge Ross, pub lished last Saturday. In this epistle the jurist scores the pettifogger for his vacillating ways and ignorant misstatements, whereby the enforcement of the Geary act had been practically of the Geary act and annulled until the indignant judge felt called upon to inform the chief executive of the nation of his subordinate's "pernicious inactivity." Having thus had Mr. Olney's curious doings called to his attention it is not strange that the President "jogged up" the Department of Justice somewhat, and the marshal was sent an adequate supply of money to carry out the orders of

In Mr. Olney's letter of September 29 to Judge Ross, which called out the spicy reply, the head of the Department of Justice says:

"The difficulty in advancing funds to Marshal Gard arose from the state of his accounts. His bond is for $20,000. Marshal Gard arose from the state of his accounts. His bond is for $20,000. He has already been advanced more than the amount, for which no vouchers have been received. The treasurer's rules of long standing, of which all marshals are supposed to be cognizant, prevented the advancement of further moneys to Marshal Gard in this state of his accounts. But, in view of the exigency suggested by your telegram (to the President) the Acting Attorney-General obtained the assurance from United States Attorney Denis that the marshal had in his possession vouchers which had not been Denis that the marshal had in his possession vouchers which had not been presented to the amount of about $19,000, and assumed the responsibility of securing a further advance to the marshal of $2500, which was remitted to him yesterday. I have asked United States Attorney Denis to request the marshal to have the vouchers referred to approved and forwarded promptly." OLNEY'S OMISSION.

Marshal Gard was seen yesterday, and stated that he had received from Washington the amount indicated, as also a draft for $700, which latter sum was the difference between the amount for which he was debited on the books at Washington and the total sum of his bonds. In other words, the auditor's books in the Treasury Department showed that he was indebted to the government about $29,000, and was only credited with between $8000 and $9000. As the treasurer in his accounts with government officials does not credit them with their fees, mileage and other expenses until the vouchers are turned and stated that he had received fron expenses until the vouchers are turned in at the end of the quarter, it is easy to see how the marshal for this dis-to see how the marshal for this dis-trict, who has recently been under a very heavy expense, has apparently overdrawn his limit of $20,000.

Marshal Gard said he was well aware of the "treasurer's rule of long stand-ing" referred to by Mr. Olney in his letter to Judge Ross, and, anticipating such a hitch some time ago, had resuch a hitch some time ugo, had requested Dist. Atty. Denis to inform the Department of Justice that he was willing to give double the amount of the present bond if considered necessary. Mr. Olney made no mention of h his letter of the 29th ult. Ross, but allowed it to be that the confused state of Judge Ross, but allowed it to be inferred that the confused state of the marshal's accounts is responsible for the scant supply of funds hitherto forwarded from Washington. Marshal Gard says that so far as this is concerned, he has about $8000 deposited to the credit of the government in the Los Angeles National Bank, and has about $12,000 in disputed accounts hung up in the Freasury Department, and which may finally have to be settled through the Court of Claims. In addition to these two items, he has also, as mentioned in the Olney letter of September 29, vouchers to the amount of about $10,000 in his possession. These, as per request, have been sent to Washington, though in the regular routine they would have been sent about this time anyway. Then the Treasury Department, through error, has never credited the marshal with about $1000 for deputy's fees during the last election, although the vouchers were sent to Washington at the proper time. This $4000 is still charged against Marshal Gard, and although there is no doubt that whenever the particular department clerk gets to it the matter will be straightened, yet its presence on the books acts detrimentally, at present, to the interests of justice. The existence of this particular item is also, no doubt, responsible for the half-whispered, Coulter-like story, which has been industriously circulated recently in certain quarters that the marshal is short in his accounts.

tain quarters that the marshal is short in his accounts.

TOTAL COST OF DEPORTATION.

In answer to a question Marshal Gard said he thought the Auditor of the Treasury's estimate regarding the total cost of deporting the unregistered 'Chinese now in this country, was somewhat extravagant. The marshal says the Treasury Department in its calculations did not take into consideration the fact that the fees of marshals, court clerks, district attorneys and others connected with the administration of the exclusion act was 'limited. As a matter of fact, the marshal's annual fees are limited to $6000 per annum in California, while in Arizona, Washington and Oregon the marshals are entitled to double fees. As most of the Chinamen live in California, it might possibly cost the government a little more than usual if deportation was fully carried out, but it is plain to be seen that the question of marshal's fees cuts little figure in this State, as all over $6000 earned by either Marshal Long or Marshal Gard reverts to the government. Outside of the actual traveling expenses and board the government will not be very much out by wholesale deportation. In Washington, Oregon and Arizona, in each of which there are large numbers of Chinese, it is well known that the marshals of these districts under the lixury of double fees, reach the limit each are with just the ordinary amount of business, consequently the government would not have to pay any extra fees. Here, again, almost the entire expense would be for railroad and steamship fares and board. Mr. Gard thinks that when these things are taken into consideration it would be a safe calculation if the auditor's estimate was cut down at least 30 per cent. That Judge Ross's telegram to President Cleveland had a most salutary effect in this part of the country was proven by the facts which have since then been disclosed. The marshal of this district was supplied with $3200, while Collector Wise of San Francisco. TOTAL COST OF DEPORTATION.

who, with a great flourish of trumpets, has been made special disbursing officer for all deportations to China, has so far received from the Treasury Department the insignificant sum of $5000, as the "special fund." Either Mr. Cariisle believes that actual deportations will be few and far between, or the officials at Washington entertain an exaggerated idea of Collector Wise's abilities in the line of obtaining "the best terms possible from the steamship companies" and cutting down expenses generally.

A Circular Letter from President Charles W. Greene.

The Bear Valley Irrigation Company The Bear Valley Irrigation Company has issued a circular, over the signature of the 'president, Charles W. Greene, in reply to the recent sensational article published in the San Francisco Chronicle, under the heading, "Near to a Receiver," denying certain allegations and refuting certain statements contained in the article. The alleged published financial statement is characterized by Mr. Greene as "the merest bosh." The actions of Messrs. North and Brown are severely criticised by Mr. Greene, and the company is declared to be solvent and able to meet all its obligations. Mr. Greene concludes his circular as follows:
"My own relations to the presidency of the company is simply a forced one. It was accepted against my inclination, and greatly against my personal interests solely for the purpose of retests.

It was accepted against my inclination, and greatly against my personal interests, solely for the purpose of protecting the interests of the shareholders, who have invested millions at my solicitation and upon my representation. The property is here to show for itself, to any one who will make the examination, that it is all and more than it has ever been represented to be, and that it only needs the restoration of confidence, impaired by these outrageous and indetensible attacks, which will enable it to dispose of the balance of its securities, and go forward for the accomplishment of its full purpose, to secure results which will not only be gratifying to the shareholders, but which will justify all the favorable assertions which have been made concerning it.

SANTA MONICA.

Agitating the Question of Sunday Closing-

Said a prominent citizen to a Times reporter yesterday: "It seems to me that our board of trustees should take some action looking to the closing of saloons on Sunday. In nearly every incorporated town in the State there s a Sunday-closing ordinance, and in is a sunday-closing ordinance, and in the country districts of this county, where there are no town incorpora-tions, the Board of Supervisors have prohibited the sale of liquors on Sun-day. In Santa Monica the doors of the selectors are wide over on the first day any. In Santa Monica the doors of the saloons are wide open on the first day of the week, and drunken men reeling out of them is no very pleasant sight to those who are on their way to and from the churches. I, for one, am in favor of a closing ordinance, and I hope the trustees will look at it as I do, and pass such an ordinance as I have here indicated."

The Associated Press is, to all appear ances, making a series of home runs in its game with the red stockings of the United Press. The supremacy of news-gathering concern, controlled by private interests, would be a national calamity, and the great public has really more at stake in the present struggle than the newspapers themselves. The people want the news unolored and without jobbery. The mutual principle of news-gathering inaugurated by the old reliable "A. P. is the only true one, and it deserves to be extended until it covers the globe.

The spectacle of Mr. Cleveland's Secretary of the Treasury going down in the Capital building and putting on the thumb-screws to keep the Senate from adopting a compromise of the silver question is not one that the country will rejoice in to any great extent. If the President and his clerks will keep out of the lobby and permit Congress to run its end of the machine every.

If Van Alen goes to Rome will he do tinue to roll up his troils is still cane anglophobese? The Senate has a right to ask these questions before confirm tion, because with this country on the best of terms with Italy we have no right to inflict upon it a social mon-strosity that will be a hoodoo to it.

ing as water supply, wells, tanks, water holes, etc., for the use and security of their cattle and sheep ranges. In Amerca, however, we grudge the expenditure of even $5000 for the purpose of making more valuable and useful the 300,000,000 acres of pastural land that still form part of the public domain. Rather than take the pains to investigate and save the property of all the people, our new school of statesmen would prefer to throw it by the wholesale and recklessly into the hands of ravenous speculators, real estate rings and cattle ranch grabbers.

The Albany Express is outspoken in its charges against Cleveland, and enumerates them in the following conise manner:

cise manner:

"He has endeavored repeatedly to usurp the functions of a co-ordinate branch of the government.

"He has suspended the law.

"He has violated the Constitution.

"He holds himself above his party.

"He repudiates his party pledges.

"His will is the law, and those who oppose him personally or officially feel the weight of his official wrath."

autocrat cannot pass uncha lenged by the sovereigns of American freedom. We are not yet ready for this one-man power, though Cleveland may be blind to the fact.

Now that the Senate is going to work nights, if ought to be able to reach a vote before the expiration of Grover's term. It should understand that the country is weary of gab-oh, so wearyand that nothing but an early vote will satisfy it. The gentlemen of the "Mill ionaire's Club" have talked long enough. and the people now want to see what sort of a thing a vote would look like.

It is unfortunate that Ives, the Ame can billiard sharp, could not have beaten Roberts in order to keep pace with the noble yacht Vigilant, which won such a glorious victory on Satur-day. Possibly the pool-box dominated the play, as is not unfrequent in sporting contests between professionals.

If any one doubts that Los Angeles is the most alive business city in the country we invite his attention to the advertising display in vesterday's issue of The Times. It was an astonishing showing for any city, particularly for one of 70,000 inhabitants.

Every year there are a number of small forest fires in this State which do considerable damage. It would be an economical step to have the forests guarded so as to see that the laws for the protection of the timber may be properly enforced.

The indictment of that arch swindler, Walter J. Raymond, by a Federal grand jury in Ohio is of incalculable benefit to California. He has been ore of a damage to the prosperity of this State than a plague of locusts.

The bad weather is having an appreciable effect on the attendance at the World's Fair. The season, which has been exceptionally fine, is apparently going out like a lion and taking the revenues of the exposition with it.

At conclusion of the discourse by Mrs. Laura Ormiston-Chant at Unity Church yesterday morning, Rev. J. S. Thompson, pastor of the church, stated that by this sermon three questions had een answered, viz: "Is there such a thing as inspira

Mrs. Chant, in her opening invocation prayed fervently that words might b sent, blessed to her use and to the good of those who heard them on this occa-sion; and with that prayer words seemngly leaped to her lips, and were there ready for utterance, so rapid and thrill-ing was their delivery. the fifteenth chapter of St. Luke was the morning lesson; and the text was from St. Luke xv,20, "But when he was yet a great way off, his father saw him." It was the fire of conviction that comes from actual experience, from contact with the prodigal and the full knowledge of his burdens of life, that made her remarks telling. She knows the weaknesses, the failures, the temptations of humanity; in the words of Dr. Thompson, her works for humanity son, her works for humanity. though she has received the best education that England can give her women, she is, as he expressed with emphasis, an humble follower of Jesus Christ, and she will state for herself that if Christ had never lived she would never have been inspired to do the work she is doing for the outcasts of London. In this connection the words were quoted by him of a prominent English representative, the father of three rectors of the Church of England, to the effect that Mrs. Chant should be "roasted for her heresies, but delited for her charities." she has received the best edu

Perhaps no story has ever moved the heart like this of the prodigal's return. Mrs. Chant said, because of the spiritual force there is behind it. There are always boys and girls who are forgetting their homes and going out to "know the world." and who come to grief, if they live in the material Instead of the spiritual. With what pathos we picture the father waiting through the long hours for his son to come back again, and then, after weary days seeing with the eves that love days seeing with the eves that love come back again, and then, after weary days, seeing, with the eyes that love makes keen, the wandering one coming home at last. His fond heart is rejoiced, and he goes out to meet him, and bring him back with kindness. Ah, men and women, only and always do we learn of the divine through the human, and if we are able to touch the highest human, we can only thus rise human, and if we are able to touch the highest human we can only thus rise to touch the divine. All of you who are prodigals, God is bound to bring you home some day. You will have to go through deserts, to fall upon the thorns of life and bleed, but there is a home of life and bleed, but there is a none ready for you.

When we see a man or woman very far below our ideal, steeped in sin, we can only see the failure, but God sees the ultimate success. It is not for us to ask why there is not always sunshine in the world, why there are cyclones and storms and earthquakes and disasters. We are beginning more and more to understand that out of our present pains spring eternal joys. If we present pains spring eternal joys. If we are coarse in nature, our ideals will be coarse. If we have high aspirations, we must be true to our ideals, even though cast in uncongenial company We must have patience, wait; and some day we shall be taken away and placed in our own compar has been learned. our own company, when our lesson s been learned. We must bear in mind that we cannot sin against ourselves without the agony of wounding beautiful natures struggling against calamity, while some friend seems to be riding on the crest-wave of success, we must still remember that sin brings be riding on the crest-wave of success, we must still remember that sin brings its own punishment wrapped up in it; and if we could see the awakening in that future world we would spare all our strictures and be very patient.

There are many prodigals who are wandering in many ways. Some go only to where they can look in upon riotous living, and it soon sickens them. Others plunge into it recklessly and seem to enjoy it. But in due season there comes a time when they will realize how far they are from the father's house. There come home memories stirring in the heart, that call to them to come back. Watch the love of the human heart for the little child, the boy or girl, that gives most anxiety; and if we all human beings can be so divine; think of what God must be.

How many who are not prodigals who are men and women mingling with the world, think of those around you?

How many who are not prodigals who are men and women mingling with the world, think of those around you? It is not education, the use of correct grammar, of fine rhetoric, that reaches and touches people. It is emotion that is the great driving force of the world, it is love that is the electrical force that lights the world. When you see men and women controlled by things outside of these forces, they are feeding on husks. I, personally, have conceived my ideal; I conceive it to be my duty that every man or woman whose life I touch, every little child I meet, I am bound to help in some way to make better. And I am no more divine than the rest of humanity. We are bound the rest of humanity. We are bound to help one another. We should be un-able to see any loveliness, any cruelty, any wrong, without attempting to al-leviate it from out the divine treasury

If there is any one devil that needs of love.

If there is any one devil that needs casting out of England and America today, it is the devil of pharlseeism. We are living in a little pen of our own, and believing that everybody else is wrong because outside of our pen. Let us throw ourselves passionately into being Christians, in such a manner that we shall love man so well that we cannot bear to have one straw laid across his path in the rush and bustle of life. It is not that we are called to go to those successful ones whom the newspapers are trumpeting, but to go to those who are hidden away down in poor tenement houses, who need comfort, and encouragement, and the composition of the mission of the composition of the composition of the produces. Christian, to love and guide the prodigal home. Nor should any barrier of race or of sex ever be allowed to bar the work of one's simple human being. There must be no prefudices. Christ, in order to touch a man's life, did not look to any conditions or merit. Yet we sit down with our gifts, walting until we can ask a million 'questions, We must be'r in mind, however, that it is the easiest way to fling money to a beggar, but be condemned.

Prayer is the atmosphere in which we live, but with prayer must be blended work. Prayer is the song of the bird the bloom of the flower; they are God's flowers, God's birds. And we must work to make life more easy and beautiful for the little child, for the youth, for the adult, toiling up the steep and trying paths. We must work for the uncared-for, the sorrowing, the uncomforted.

Predigals are we all, wandering away rom the Father's house. We all need Predigals are we all, wandering away from the Father's house. We all need help.

Yet there is a mercy that is priceless; it blosses him that gives and him that takes. It is not simply asking God to be good to us, that is to alleviate human, wrongs. It is going down into the block sorrows of human life. If we would gain those flowers of divine nature which will make the palace of our future beautiful, we must gather them from seeds of our own sowing.

We must help each other, we must try to inspire lofty ideals, and we must be God-touched. So shall we be blessed—so shall we be be seed—so shall we be be seed—so shall we be be seed—so shall we be conserved in the congregation numbered over one thousand two hundred people, the auditorium being packed to the doors. So rapid, forcible and inspiring were Mrs. Chant's words, that she was listened to with almost breathless interest until the close.

A pleasing feature of the day was the decoration of the church with masses of white and purple cosmos, which had been raised by Mrs. Ellis of Alvarado street for the express purpose of serving on some "especial occasión." It was gathered for the first time for yesterday's service, and no more fitting "especial occasion" could have been marked by such a graceful tribute than the day made memorable by Mrs. Chant's presence.

The music by the quartette choir was very fine.

"Lessons for the Christian World from the Parliament of Religions."

After describing the great assembly the various religions, together with their adherents, that were represented at Chicago, he dwelt upon the great truths advocated in the assembly, and ccentuated by such an august body f religionists. He cited the fact tha there were representatives there all the world's great religions, ing followers of Parseeism, Ju ahmanism, Buddhism, Confucianis Mohammedanism, the various sects Christendom, together with many smaller bodies of religionists. He also stated that Asia was the mother of the race, and the cradle of its great systems of religions.

This parliament was a great tribute to Christianity, for such a gathering could only have been conceived by the catholic spirit of Christ, could only have been managed by followers of the meck and lowly Nazarene, and could only have assembled to a country. ly have assembled in a country minated by the spirit of the Master is is the only religion that can touch that the religious faculty is world-old and world-wide, and that religion, in some form, is as wide as the race and as broad as its history. The history of the world may be written in the history of the world's religions. The parliament served a grand purpose in disseminating information with reference to the great religions of the world. The followers of Christ are too often bigoted, intolerant with any and all views not in harmony with their own. A familiarity with the other great religions will teach heathendom's great yearning after God, their deep need of our Christ, and will impress upon us our obligation to our brethern sitting in darkness and the shadows of death. It served a good end in impressing upon those in attendance, and all who were under its influence, the two great fundamental truths enunciated by Christ more than eighteen hundred years ago—the fatherhood of God and the brotherhood of man. These great truths are, for the first time, dawning upon the world's great religious

Wherever human hearts ache, and hu-Wherever human hearts ache, and human life needs a helper, there Christ is found, if men will accept His doctrine. The power of our faith, as contrasted with others, may be seen in our civilization. No age or country has ever equaled it, and it flourishes only where men are under the influence of Christ. Under His magic touch the streams of benevolence flow, genius is unbound and human progress makes mighty bounds. Above all other considerations, Christianity frees its subjects from the bendage of sin, and leads man to his highest, noblest and best attainments—3. Godl'keness in Christ.

This subject is worthy of your consideration. Woman was not created to be a painted and powdered, puffed and curled dainty, to sit slippered and called in silk in her parlor, discussing the latest scandal. Her mission is not to spend her life in the ball-room and The

The woman whose life achieves that which is true and good, is worthy of love, and deserves the respect of all, however humble her employment.

One hundred hungry and destitute men and women were fed at the Sunday morning free breakfast at the Gospel Union, yesterday morning. tentive audience. The meeting was one of great power, and at its close, three men in the crowd, raised their hands requesting prayers.

In the evening Rev. M. J. Hall preached a powerful sermon from Acts xxvl, 28, "Almost thou persuadest me to be a Christian. Many men of today are waiting for something to come along, which they will be unable to resist, and hurl them into the kingdom of God, but that is not God's way. Every man who, today is a Christian, is a Christian not because he could not help it, but because he chose Christ. Men today are waiting for some great feeling to make them desire to be Christians. They are like the man Sam Jones tells about, who was met by a friend as he was standing, coat off, and axe sharpened, beside a tree, on a chilly morning, doing nothing. "Why, don't you go to work," his friend inquired. "I'm waiting to sweat," the man replied. If men would get right with God and go to work for Him, and the feeling will come. Men are persuaded to be Christians, not driven. Men should weigh the mater carefully and decide for that which is right.

The music, which was especially at tractive, consisted of three selections: "Far Away," "A Rest There Remaineth" and "In Thee I Trust," sung by the Mislon Quartette, Messrs. Hare, Bell, Bradbeer and Lowe.

Miss Hathaway took for her subject, "God With Us." She drew a parallel between the history of the Jews and between the history of the Jews and Christian life. These great truths are, for the first time, dawning upon the world's great religions outside of Christianity. It was inspiring to see the readiness with which many of these devotees to false religions accepted the great principles just mentioned, and those found in the Lord's prayer, which was repeated by all at the beginning of every service.

While the parliament was greatly influenced by the catholicity of Christ's teaching, it seemed to administer a stinging rebuke to the divided followers of our Lord. Many of these representatives came from the far East foworship at the feet of our Christ, and found His followers almost hopelessly divided, presenting a broken power, a disorganized army, many of these fighting each other rather than advancing the interests of a common Lord. While we are bemoaning the dreadful condition of Christendom, many advantages of Christanity over any other religion are most apparent. Its leader distances the thread of the start. In Him God is revysled as a tender, merciful, loving Father, dealing leniently with the faults of erring humanity; and in Him there was simplicity, no mysticism or abstruce philosophies. Miss Morse then spoke of her pleasure in coming to this city, and to an organization that seemed so carnestly at work. "This text that Miss Hathaway has used—"God With Us'—is the keynote of the work of this association, and unless we make ourselves acquainted with Jesus so as to do His will, we might as well not undertake it." That if we did have Christ in our hearts and in our association it would be noised abroad and prove very attractive to the world. She said: "We have a great work ahead of us. There are thousands of young women who are thousands of young women who need help. Let us be just to the young women of Los Angeles and extend temporal help to them. This was what Christ did when He was on the cirth."

She concluded with this promise: "Being confident of this very thing, that he which hath begun a good work in you will perform it until the day. in you will perform it until the day of Jesus Christ." Miss Pinkham sang a solo beauti-

Courthouse, and later on the Stewart. Of course, we do not say Dick is guilty, but such is the report, and if he be innocent, he should come back and, say so. The Courier will furnish him space."

Mr. Kirkby called, at the Times office last night and says that the above article is simply the outcome of malice on the part of a reporter of the San Bernardino Courier. He says he never was implicated in "till robbing" or any other kind of pilfering during his six year's residence in San Bernardino or while living at any other place. Mr. Kirkby claims that his departure from San Bernardino was not in the least surreptitious, as can be proven by many people. He says he can be found at No. 227 Wilmington street any time the San Bernardino authorities choose to look for him. He declines the invitation to come back and "proclaim his innocence," as he is not in a position to waste money on railroad fares.

WHOLE LARGE BIRDS ON HATS.

(From Our Regular New York Fashion Correspondent.) Indications are that late fall and early winter millinery will be rather plain than otherwise. Fancy will be held in check for a time, and simplicity will prevail. Thus plain velvets will rule in fine millinery creations, varied only by the use of satin antique and plain gros-grain; satin and velvet rib-bon's will have precedence. Chameleon effects in colors will, in a measure, pain gros-grain; satin and veiver inbons will have precedence. Chameleon effects in colors will, in a measure, divide choice with plain colors, in felt manufactures, velvets and ribbons and sombre effects will have a small part, but they are for variety rather than as an offset to the prevailing taste for plain shades. The hat pictured is of hairy beige felt, trimmed with beige ribbon and a bunch of daistes. Flowers will be used on winter hats, but exquisite fancy feathers will prevail, and whole birds will be seen, despite the efforts of the long named society. The feathers shown are so varied and handsome that they almost belie the promises of simplicity, so it merely comes to a question of what women will buy.
If plain things suit their fancy then there'll be a "plain season," if not, the rainbow will be outdone, and that on single hats, too. The feather duster effect will still prevail in the arrangement of plumes onnet, and feathers will curl freely and unwired, nodding over the edges of big, fantastically bent hats. You should call your big hat a capeline, and look bored when your unsophisticated friend thinks you refer to some

LETTERS TO THE TIMES.

An Appeal for Help. LOS ANGELES, Oct. 8 .- (To the Editor of The Times.) In the past few weeks two great storms of wind and flood have swept the coast of six States on the Atlantic and Gulf of Mexico Take your map and follow the coast lines and you will see over seven hundred miles of storm-swept coast, part of same, as with a besom of destrin of same, as with a besom of destruc-tion. Over three thousand dead, the most lying in uncoffined trenches, tells the simple, awful story. And still bodies by the hundreds lie in the debris of the marshes. Yet, from a worldly standpoint, their fate is merciful com-pared with multiplied thousands who pared with multiplied thousands who have lost their all, to whose bitter sorness, unless help is given. The writer has been over nearly all the ground; they are largely away from railroads, ness, unless help is given. The writer has been over nearly all the ground; they are largely away from railroads, telegraph and news-gatherers; they are mostly very poor. They are all "my brother."

Possibly, not since the Civil War, has a calamity touched so many familles, Shall we, who, for the past few months have been reading of great fires on our northern, borders, the storm-swept South, railroad wrecks, and almost starving, unemployed thousands in the East, and have been mereifully exempted from all these ills on our beautiful, sunny Western slope, be the first, by united, concerted action, to help in this hour of great need? Possibly, my answer from some will be: "Charity commences at home," so much privation and need right at home. The answer of the writer; the purse that is under this hand has ever been open for every known case of want at home. I think, the same answer will, of right, come from nearly every giver to this fund. One church here, with no wealthy members, has already raised over $60, and intends to make it $100 and a box of clothing. There must be over thirty churches here, cannot each do at least-as much? There are here many grand, noble givers, outside of all churches, some known to the writer, what is your answer? We are named the "City of the Angels," let us show ourselves worthy of the name, and "set the pace" for this entire West Coast. A few suggestions and queries: Wire the 'mayors of New Orleans, Mobile, Pensacola, Brunswick, Savannah and Charleston for immediate full particulars by mail, of known needs. Publish same. Then use the fund intelligently. Will the Southern Pacific carry free boxes of clothing? It is too far to send perishable supplies. Will some bank forward the funds free? Would every paper in the city publish this appeal, or better still, one by an abler pen?

"'Hope deferred' explains the past week in part, and it is doubtless true that many indulged unreasonable hopes, but business has not entirely answered expectations. A feeling of disappointment is commonly ascribed to delay of action on the silver bill in the Senate. It is also true that many works which have resumed operations works which have resumed operations do not find orders as large or the demand from consumers as vigorous as they anticipated, and with some it is a question whether they will not close again. While money on call has been abundant and cheap, and about $4,000,000 clearing-house certificates have been retired, there is perceptible greater caution in making commercial loans here and at some Western points. Confidence, proverbially of slow growth, has been somewhat diminished, in part because advancing exchange suggests the possibility of gold exports.

"During most of the week speculative weariness has found expression in lower prices. Stocks were more active, but lower, railroads declining on the average $1.42, and trust stocks $1.60 per share to Wednesday night, and the recovery has since been small. Railroad earnings for September show a decline of 13 per cent. compared with last year, which is not better than the August report, though the returns for the second and third weeks were better than for the first week. On Western lines and trunk lines the decrease is somewhat smaller, but Southern and Pacific roads do not materially improve, and east-bound shipments from Chicago show a decrease of 14 per cent. "Wheat receipts decrease again, and for the last week.

"Wheat receipts decrease again, and fall far behind last year's, but stocks in sight are too heavy, and the price for December fell nearly 1 cent. Corn continues to come forward freely, and crop reports are not unfavorable, but the price fell 1% cents. Changes in pork products were obviously due rather to manipulation than to any change in the outlook. Cotton declined change in the outlook. Cotton declined about 3-16, with no great change in the movement or in crop prospects, and with increasing work by the mills in this country. When stocks are unusually large, their very weight at times over-balances all other considerations.

Of the fabrics, articles of cotton manufacture show a greater relative increase in sales than any other. The enormous decrease in production for the past two months begins to be felt, and, as merchants are laying in their season's supply, a hopeful market is the consequence. Trade in woolen dress goods is better, and there is also a little more demand for men's woolens, though not enough to keep employed the increased number of mills now running. Sales of wool last week were 4,629,450 pounds, against 6,448,600 pounds for the same week last year. Notwith-4,629,450 pounds, against 6,448,600 pounds for the same week last year. Notwithstanding the shrinkage it is believed that many purchases were for investment, rather than for manufacture. While seventy-eight manufacturing concerns are reported as starting wholly, or in part, against twenty closing or reducing force, more than a third of the increase has been in cotton mills, and another third in machine shops nail mills, manufactures of ton mills, and another third in machine shops, nail mills, manufactures of stoves and hardware, tools and cars, while in the iron manufacture proper only seven concerns have started, against three that have stopped, and the outlook does not seem brighter. Chicago is adding to her marvelous buildings, and in structural and some other forms, the demand, at the West is clearly increased. But the closing of the largest iron mine in the country, the Norrie, which ordinarily produces 1,000,000 tons yearly, indicates the limited character of the business. At the East the demand for products is painfully inadequate, even for the scanty force now at work, and the lowest price on record attracts little business. It is said that one sale of steel rails has been effected by a sharp reduction in price. The contest between the Amalgamated Association and works in the Pittsburgh region has been settled, but too late for most of the men. The glass-workers have not yet agreed as to wages, and stocks are growing low. In boots and shoes the marked activity seen in New York is not found at Boston, where the business is slow, and few establishments are resuming, and shipments from the latter city are still 30 per cent. smaller than last year, but the rubber works are all fully employed, and the demand for their products is large.

In foreign trade exports again exceed last year's, and for the month about 24.6 per cent., while imports show a decrease for the month of about 30 per cent. Yet foreign exchange has risen so far that exports of gold to Germany might be made with little loss, and it is believed that bills for repayment of gold obtained on loans from Europe in July and August affect the rate more than current business. Though a return of part of the gold has been expected, and the banks have on hand more than they need, the treasury stock is so low that a renewed outflow would be regarded with some apprehension. The return of money from the interior continues large, and plainly reflects less activity than usual at this scas mills, manufactures and hardware, tools and cars in the iron manufacture prope

the Senate.

There were no bank failures during the week. Statistics compiled show that from January to September this year, 560 State and private banks failed, and only 72 resumed, about one in eight. During the same period 155 national banks failed, of which 70 resumed, nearly one-half. Of the suspended State and private banks, 426 were in the West, 82 in the South, and 53 in the East. Twenty-five of the 53 were in New York State. Of those that regumed, 60 were in the West, 7 in the South and 5 in the East.

WORLD'S FAIR EXHIBITS.

What Will Become of Them After the Show?

(Chicago Herald:) In little more than a month there will be thrown on the Chicago market the largest and most varied collection of merchandise the world has ever seen. Directly the World's Fair closes all the displays, except some historical collections and loan exhibits, will be for sale. These displays come from every civilized country on the globe, and a number of semi-barbaric ones. The value of the collections has been estimated from $20,000,000 to $50,000,000, and even much higher. There is little doubt that $30,000,000 would be a onservative estimate of their value.

The question is now being generally, sked: Will the World's Fair directors. allow exhibitors to convert Jackson Park into a mammoth international bazaar at the close of the fair? The question will probably remain unanswered until the closing days of the exposition. Already strong influences are at work to divert the great collection of merchandise to other cities, or perhaps get it out of the country entirely, but when the issue is made in the board of directors, it is believed the exhibitors will win, and that for at least a month after the fair has allow exhibitors to convert Jackson least a month after the fair has closed, Jackson Park will be the shop-ping center of the world. In a very quiet but effective way the customhouse brokers are working some schemes of their own. They have undertaken to get the duty on foreign exhibits cut in two. Iu a general way it may be said that the customs duty on it may be said that the customs duty on foreign displays that are sold is 50 per cent. The amount varies, but that is perhaps a fair average. The custom-house brokers want it reduced to 25 per cent. or less. Their case has been presented to Congress by an old attache of the Treasury Department, who believes the bill will be favorably reported.

The tariff tax on foreign exhibits, when added to the percentage demanded by the exposition company on all sales, makes the price of foreign goods, except in rare instances, almost prohibitive. The American across the aisle has the advantage, having no customs duty to pay, but even he has few sales, owing to the high percentage that must be paid to the exposition company.

As a result of these percentage charges none of the exhibitors have been able to sell any considerable quantity of their displays, and they are beginning to feel rebellious. Some of them express a determination to open out directly after the fair and sell their goods at any price rather than ship. goods at any price rather than ship them home again. They are inclined to find fault with members of the Council of Administration and directory and say that personal interests are largely re sponsible for the rigid rules governing the sale of goods.

Acting President Peck believes the rules will be so amended as to allow the exhibitors to sell their goods after the fair.

"I know there is very strong opposition to it now," he began, but I think the conditions will be changed so that the large part of the displays will be disposed of here. It would seem decidedly inappropriate to convert these magnificent buildings into a bazaar after the fair had been conducted on such a high plain, but something of the

such a high plain, but something of the sort is by no means impossible."

"What plans have been suggested?"

"A great many. We will have as many plans for getting the exhibits out as we had for getting them in, but, in my opinion, the directors will ultimately authorize promiscuous sales, with the right to deliver goods on the spot. The percentage charged for allowing sales may be reduced or we may charge the exhibitors a certain allowing sales may be reduced or we may charge the exhibitors a certain rental for the use of the floor spaces which they now occupy free. The general sale of goods would relieve us gental sale of goods would refleve us of considerable worry and expense in getting the goods out. As the case now stands we will be compelled to lay our railway tracks again and make the same preparations for taking the stuff out that we did for bringing it in. It will be very expensive. If goods were sold for immediate delivery they would be carried away by purchasers and we would be relieved of the necessity of hauling many of them out.

A COUTURIERE HYPNOTIZED.

Very Strange Experience of a French Girl in are now to hand concerning the case of the girl who was found two days ago in a hypnotized condition in one of the omnibuses running from the Place Pig-alle to the Halle aux Vins. Papers like these exist and always will. They sail by the water which has passed, and so long as folks think they're moving, it matters not whether they do or not.

The space in a thoroughly high-grade or old-fashioned paper, with a circulation of 500 copies, is worth more than a cheap paper with a circulation of six or seven hundred.

Old fogyism has its value, for old-fogy papers are read by people who will not read any other papers, but the majority of old fogies are seldom influenced by advertising.

The world over, the people's paper, so long as it does not descend too low, is the paper which is, and always will be, the advertising medium of the city. The paper which does not cater to the laboring class, and by not so catering, does not reach the people who are the buyers, is the paper which only reaches a species of so-called blue-bloods, who buy in charmed circles, outside of public channels.

There are not, in any community, from New York city to the smallest town in the West, enough real blue-blooded aristocrats to keep a progressive peanut stand in profitable business condition.

The hue and cry made by publications printed upon highly-calendared paper, and containing nothing of interest to any one, that they reach the tone of the town, simply means, if this be true, that the circulation is limited to from one hundred to not exceeding five hundred copies, with 90 per cent.

daily for their reading food, which they digest and live upon.

The paper of only quantity may not be a good advertising medium, but it is simply senseless to advertise in a paper of all quality.

The advertiser must reach the public through the paper which goes to it.

The advertiser receives his trade from the people at large, not from the very poor, ner the very rich, but from the gneat middle class; the predomniating class in every community, which reads the popular local paper, not run in the interest of any clique, but for the people as the people.

The politics of a paper have absolutely nothing to do with its value as an advertising medium.

The newspaper is looking for readers, and every line of its matter is made to suit them. The paper which will bring business to the local advertiser.

There are papers of enormous circulation, and yet not good advertising mediums, because either the papers are filthy, and filthy papers are not good advertising mediums, because either the papers are filthy, and filthy papers are not good advertising mediums, because either the papers are filthy, and filthy papers are not good advertising mediums, because either the papers are filthy. The paper which keeps up an even circulation of business-bringing power.

The paper which keeps up an even circulation year in and year out, with ratural gain, and charges reasonable rates for advertising, is the paper which the advertiser should spend the bulk of his money in, the balance to be distributed among other papers of more or less questionable circulation.

Some papers cannot quote their circulation, not because they are ashamed of it, but because competing papers so overestimate their circulation, that the publisher of the honest publication is obliged to either overestimate, or lose advertising, consequently he compromises with himself and says nothing, but the majority of papers give definite figures, and stand by them.

The following advertisements illustrate what might be considered the unheaded style; that is, advertisements which are complete in one paragraph, without any display line, This style is advisable at times, but never must be set in smaller type than pica.

THE WAY THEY RE PUT UP, in sealed glass vials, is enough in itself to recommend Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets. It keeps them always fresh and reliable. You can't be sure of the big, old-fashioned pills in wooden or pasteboard boxes.

But these little Pellets are better at every point. By their tonic or strengthening effect on the lining membranes of the intestines, they increase the natural action of the bowels, and permanently cure Jaundice, Billiousness, Dizziness, Sour Stomach, Indigestion, and consequent stupor or drowsiness.

There's no disturbance, no reaction afterward, and their help lasts. One tiny granule is a gentle laxative; three are cathartic.

They're the smallest in size, the easiest to take, and the casiest in the way they act. They're the cheapest, too, for they're guaranteed to give satisfaction, or your money is returned.

Nothing else can be "just as good." Tricky dealers always have things to urge upon you which are better for them to sell, but bad for you to buy.

GREATEST SUCCESS! Two Gold Medals!

The Wonderful Art Was the Result of an Accident.

(Stone, London:) One of the greatest discoveries ever made was the result of the purest accident. It was in the year 1796. The citizens of Munich had just witnessed the first triumphant performance of Mozart's opera "Don Juan," and the theater was deserted by all save one man, Alois Senefelder, who, after making a round of inspection in the building to see that no sparks had ignited anything combustible, retired to his room to stamp the tickets of admission for the day following. When he entered his apartments he had three things in his hand—a polished whetstone, which he had purchased for sharpening razors, a ticket stamp still moistened with printing ink, and a check on the treasurer of the theater for his weekly salary. As he placed the latter upon the table a gust of wind swept it high up in his room for a moment, and then deposited it in a basin filled with water. Senefelder dried the wet naner as Two first prizes for large and small photographs, WORLD'S FAIR convention of the Photographic Association of America, over some of the most eminent photographers of the East (and the Pacific Coast.) infesting the community for the past several months:
"Sing Lee, the proprietor of the laundry, was arrested this week and taken before Judge Ross for violating the Geary law. The charge against him, which led to his arrest, was shooting a rifle in town on several occasions. For the last two years the young hoodlums of this place have been in the habit of going almost every night and rocking the laundry. They smashed all the glass out of the windows, and on more than on occasion they fired bulmore than on occasion they fired bullets through the house. In fact, everything was done which could be thought of. Then after putting board shutters to all of the windows and making complaints to the authorities, all to no purpose, Sing Lee bought a rifle, and on several occasions shot to scare the purpose, Sing Lee bought a rifle, and on several occasions shot to scare the boys away. Now, how eager the citizens are to have the law enforced, so eager that they all chip in, with the aid of the hoodlums, and pay a constable's fare to Los Angeles to get a warrant for the heathen law-breaker's arrest. The boys are still rocking the laundry nightly, but the Chinamen inside dare not say one word or do one thing, because in this great and glorious republic, which claims equal rights to all men, a Chinaman has no more rights than a dog."

other districts fail to organize. When Ontario people set their minds on anything they generally "get there," and in their determination to market the coming orange crop as an association, whether the rest of the county organizes or not, shows a disposition more of which is needed in other sections. This movement, the success of which is of paramount importance, and so obvious to every one, is threatened with failure by the indifference of the growers themselves in some sections. In Redlands no effort has been made toward a general organization. The sentiment seems to prevail there, so it is stated, that their orange are so good they will sell themselves under any circumstances. In speaking of the matter yesterday, a prominent grower said that he thought the fools' paradise had all been ruthlessly knocked out last season, but that it seemed he was mistaken. He said further, that in Alhambra, Pasadena and a few other places, the work is not yet in shape. He admonished the growers to get a move on before the shipping season is upon them, and finds them unprepared.

CITY COUNCIL.

Some of the Matters to Come Up at Today's Session.

The Water Supply Committee of the City Council is expected to present a detailed report at today's meeting of that body in reference to the proposition of Messre. Peirce and Shaffer, on the sale of the plant of the City Water Company. Just what course of action the committee will recommend remains to be seen.

The ordinance of intention for the widening of First street, between Main and Los Angeles streets, is to come up today for passage, and, as all the necessary preliminaries have ben disposed of, there seems to be nothing to prevent the ordinance being passed today. The City Attorney has been instructed to present an ordinance increasing the police force by nine men, for a period of six months. While some of the councilmen are opposed to this measure, yet it is believed the ordinance will receive a sufficient with ber of votes to pass.

The City Attorney has also been instructed to present an ordinance amending the present license ordinance so that the price for a circus of a seating capacity of 2000 or less shall be $100 per day; that of a circus having a seating capacity of more than 2000 $500 per day, and sideshows $25 per day each.

The City Engineer has been instructed to present plans and specifications for the relieving of the flooded condition during the rainy season, on Pearl street, near Sand street, caused by the collection of storm water at that point.

The requisitions from the Chief of Police, which, in acordance with the instructions of the commission, he presented at the last meeting of the Council, were referred back to the Supply Committee. This was acording to one of the rules for the government of the Council, requiring that, upon the objection of any member to the passage of a requisition at the first reading it shall be referred back to the committee. These requisitions are expected to be presented today for the second time, and it is possible that some lively discussion may be had over their disposition.

lively discussion may be had over their disposition.

Notwithstanding there are many vague rumors aftoat about the disruption of the Police Commission, yet it is thought that this question will not be brought before the Council today. Although there are two or three of the councilmen who, it is believed, might be induced to favor such a measure, yet, in order to get a number of votes sufficient for it to carry, it is thought that it would require the support of some of the members who are not as yet prepared to place themselves on record, as they would thus necessarily do. They undoubtedly appreciate the fact that any such action on their part morning at the Methodist Episcopal Church, South.

The marshal says that shortly after Judge Ross rendered his decision classing highbinders as "Chincse laborers," he (the marshal) together with Dist.-Atty. Davis, conferred with Chief of Police Glass, and requested that the chief give them the names of a number of the worst highbinders in the city. This action on the part of the United States authorities is in line with the course pursued since the highbinder decision was rendered, and has given excellent results in Fresno, Bakersfield and other places. Chief Glass furnished the Federal authorities with the names of several notorious "hatchetmen," among the list being that of Charley Ah Him. Complaints were sworn to and warrants issued, but somehow or other, Ah Him and two others got wind of the fact and disappeared. Some of the less influential of the vicious tribe were not so fortunate, and were captured by the authorities before they had time to escape, and are now in the Northern jails waiting deportation. The marshal then notified parties whom he could trust in different effes to keep a sharp lookout for Charley Ah Him and his two fellow-refugees. There was no doubt that the fugitives were in hiding within the borders of the State, hoping to keep look that the fugitives were in hiding within the borders of the State, hoping to keep which provides for the discontinuance of all proceedings now pending. In this way Charley Ah Him no doubt thought he could beat the United States courts, as he has often heretofore "got away" with the State courts.

Marshal Gard said once it was reported that Charley Ah Him no doubt thought he could not lay his hands on the other two, who are still at large. They had been in San Diego, but, getting wind of Ah Him's arrest had, no doubt, left the city. Thus the statement of the willy criminal that he had not been in hiding during the month the officers had been looking for him is entirely controverted. The marshal says that shortly after

SOLAR ECLIPSE.

The Sun Will Be Partially Obscured Today.

There will be a partial eclipse of the sun this morning, and if the weather is clear, a good view of the phenomenon can be had throughout Southern California. The first shadow will be thrown on the sun about 10:30 o'clock, and the great orb will be gradually obscured until it will resemble the moon in its first quarter. The greatest shadow will hour after the

At only one point in this hemisphere will the total eclipse be seen, and that is at Lima, Peru, when a half hour before sunset the sun will be almost covered by shadow. This will also be retiled at various points on the Pecific ered by shadow. This will also be moticed at various points on the Pacific Ocean from the time old Sol arises until he drops out of sight. A PROMISING YOUNGSTER.

Rey el Santa Anita, says the San Francisco Chronicle, is E. J. Baldwin's favorite two-year-old. He has been quite a good and consistent performer on the Eastern turf this year. He is by imported Chevlot, dam Aloha, by Grinstead. Rey el Santa Anita is unlike the usual run of Cheviots, and appears to be able to go the route. In this respect he takes after the characteristics of the Grinstead's family. The Baldwin colt made his debut on the turf in a $1000 stake at Washington Park, and won from Oakwood and ten others, runnning the five and one-half furlongs in 1:11½. Rey el Santa Anita next started for the rich Hyde Park stake, but only finished fifth to Domino, Peter the Great, Vassel and El Telegrapho. The three-quarters of a mile was run in 1:14. On July 21 Rey el Santa Anita captured the Lake View handicap from a good field in impressive style. Flirtation started in this race, but finished twelfth. The three-quarters of a mile was run in 1:15. Later on Rey el Santa Anita won two races at Saratuga over "fairish" fields.

At Saratoga the California colt won a five-and-a-half-furlong dash in 1:11. His next start was in the great Futurity. Rey el Santa Anita was second choice in the betting, but made a disappointing finish after showing up prominently in the early part of the journey. Domino won the race in 1:124-5. On September 5 Rey el Santa Anita ran third to Kentigerna and Appomattox. The colt was next started in an all-age event, which was won by the speedy Pedestrian. Rey el Santa Anita led until near the finish. It will, therefore, be seen that Rey el Santa Anita was more than an average two-year-old.

GLENALVIN'S PLANS. The Chicago Herald says: "Second caseman Glenalvin, of the Chicagos, s organizing a team made up of former California players, and contemplates a trip to the Pacific Coast. His team will be known as the California National leaguers, and it is proposed to play a series of exhibition games with clubs at San Francisco, Cakland, Los Angeles, Sacramento and other points. The team, as made up to date, will include these well-known players: Clarke of Baltimore, and Wilson of New York, catchers; Griffith of Chicago and German of New York, pitchers: Decker of Chicago, first base: Glenalvin of Chicago, second base: Irwin of Chicago, shortstop; Reitz' of Baltimore, third base; Dungan and Lange of Chicago, and Treadway of Baltimore, outfielders. This team, if the scheme is carried out, will put up good ball, and the trip ought to prove a success.

E. A. Hornbeck, says a San Diego paper, has been nominated for chief consul of the Southern California division of the League of American Wheelmen. There has been no other nomination, and he will probably be elected in the mail vote, which will be cast in November.

The Riverside Wheelmen at a recent meeting elected the following officers to serve during the ensuing year: President, John A. Simms; vice-president, W. A. Correll; secretary, John Bigelow; captain, G. W. Cobb. The Riverside club is now the most notable one in this portion of the State, embracing, as it does, among its members some of the fastest riders on the Coast.

The proposed indoor athletic exhibition at the olympic Tennis Club's gymnashum, at San Francisco, will probably include a tennis match between T. A. Rev. A. M. Hough, on behalf of the congregation and members of Central Church, then gave a very eloquent address of welcome to the pastor and his wife. The speaker reviewed the work of the year and spoke feelingly of the untiring efforts of the pastor to build up the work of the church and all its departments, especially as regarded the spiritual welfare of the people.

J. W. Kemp extended the welcome on behalf of the Epworth League, and the young people of the church.

Mr. Larkin responded feelingly to the words of welcome, and, in a few well-chosen remarks, expressed his thanks, to the people of the church and congregation for their words of good cheer, and for the assistance which had been given him as pastor during the year just closed. The increase in the membership of the church for the year had been very encouraging—about 60 per cent. Then it was something worthy of mention that there had not been a single jar in the church or any of its departments during the whole year. A membership of nearly two hundred, all working harmoniously for the upbuilding of Christ's kingdom was something of which to boast.

L. W. Graves presided very efficiently, and at the close of Mr. Larkins's remarks, requested the audience to remain for a social handshake. So begins, under the most auspicious and encouraging prospects, the second year of Rev. F. M. Larkins's pastorate at Central Methodist Episcopal Church.

For twelve years the People's store has led in value, and tomorrow we will more forcibly demonstrate than ever that others are not in competition with us. Look at our Silk and Dress Goods Department. We are offering the best of merchandise at less than the cost of production. We have bought our stock this season for spot cash at less than the raw materials cost. This is why we can undersell any house buying on time. Look at our Lace Curtain stock. You never saw such value in your life. The man that made them is in the hands of the Sheriff. Look through our Cloak and Wrap stock. We assure you the value is wonderful. $7 will buy as much today with us as $15 last season. Men will do well to look in at our Furnishing Goods. Natural Underwear at 75c and $1 and $1.50 that were sold at Sheriff's sale; you never bought such drives. Her Majesty Corset people have sent Miss Mahon out to us to try their corsets on any lady who would like to have a perfect fitting corset. She will be with us about Oct. 16, and will demonstrate to you that "Her Majesty" is the best in the world. We will have a fitting room solely for her use. Further notice will appear in this paper.
